

Permaculture consulting for your property

"Thanks to the comprehensive and detailed advice we received from Barbara and Erich, we have been able to avoid a lot of costly mistakes!"

"The consultancy has given wings to our vision. Now it will be easy to take the next steps on our own."

We advise on the analysis, conceptualisation, design, layout and possible restructuring of planted, agricultural or tourist properties as well as run-down land.

The individual and always integrative consultation shows what needs to be done to invite life into one's own property and bring it to full bloom, to achieve energy self-sufficiency, to close and regenerate water and other life-centred cycles, and how these can be meaningfully connected.

We will help you to read the landscape and, in the spirit of Permaculture, recommend the most effective interventions and cost-effective conversions based on a comprehensive analysis, with the aim of stopping erosion in the long term, building humus, creating effective fire protection and designing and building irrigation systems, including natural ponds. We can also help with plant care by identifying beneficial plant combinations for your 'edible landscape'.

A 2-3 hour consultation, including travel to site, viewing, discussing, analysing and sketching costs €250.

On request, individual installations can also be developed on site. For example, a grey water treatment plant, irrigation systems, composting toilets, adapted biogas plants, etc. Costs are calculated on a time basis.
